DOG ON ROAD IS CAUSE OF AUTO CRASH

Efforts of a York Springs R. 2 youth to avoid a dog on the Orrtanna-Fairfield Rd. Friday night resulted in his car being demolished.

State police said Kenneth R. Hinzman, 17, York Springs R. 2, was driving north on the Orrtanna Rd. approximately two miles north of Fairfield at 7:25 Friday night when he swerved to avoid a dog on the road. His car skidded sideways and then rolled over onto its top.

Police said the 1950 vehicle was demolished and listed the damages at $125.

A 16-year-old youth in Hinzman's car, Billy Faircloth, Gardner R. 1, who had previously suffered a broken leg and is recovering from that injury was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg firemen's ambulance to determine whether he might have suffered any further damage to the leg in the accident. Physicians said he had suffered no ill effects from the crash. Police listed no one as injured in the accident.

THREE OTHER MISHAPS

Two other accidents were investigated by state police Friday, with no injuries reported in either.

At 7:15 Friday night a car being operated south on the Taneytown Rd. by Dean Ellis, 36, Gettysburg R. 1, sideswiped a northbound car operated by Wilbur R. Waybright, 40, Gettysburg R. 1. Damage was estimated at $150 to Ellis car and $350 to the Waybright vehicle in the crash 1 1/2 miles south of here.

At 3:40 Friday afternoon a mile west of here on the Herr's Ridge Rd., damage was estimated at $225 when a car operated by Emory Baker, 60, Gettysburg R. 3, collided with a car parked by J. Blaine Walter, 51, Gettysburg R. 3. Damage was estimated at $125 to the Walter vehicle and $100 to Baker's auto.

State police were called to New Oxford at 2 o'clock this morning when a car reportedly crashed into the center square there, but were unable to immediately find the vehicle which left before the officers arrived.

Charge Israeli Attacked Syria

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Syria has lodged an urgent complaint with the United Nations after Israeli jets battered Arab outposts in the heaviest border fight between the two nations in recent years.

Each side blamed the other for starting the 100-minute clash Friday along the frontier 25 miles north of the Sea of Galilee. U.N. observers, who supervise a shaky cease-fire in the area, began an investigation of the battle.

An Israeli army spokesman said 3 Israelis were killed and 11 others injured, 5 seriously.

A Syrian army communique issued in Damascus, the capital of Syria, said its side suffered 7 dead and 26 injured.

The Israeli spokesman charged that Syria started the fight with an attack on an Israeli patrol. He said the jets went into action with napalm jellied petroleum and gunfire after the Syrians heavily damaged collective settlements at Dan and Shaar Hiyshuv.

FINAL FIGURES

The final official count for the major candidates including the absentee ballots was: For Presidential elector, Goldwater, 8,617; Johnson, 11,148; U. S. senator, Scott, 10,904; Blatt, 8,841; Superior Court judge, Woodside, 10,661; Bruno, 9,196; Hoffman, 9,163; Jacobs, 8,796; state auditor general, Helm, 10,184; Sloan, 9,395; state treasurer, Fleming, 10,376; Minehart, 9,231; congressman, Gooding, 10,779; Craley, 9,061; state senator, Hawbaker, 10,672; Lupp, 9,048; assemblyman, Worley, 10,366; Klunk, 9,498.

The count shows President Johnson now with a county lead of 2,531; Scott, 2,143; Gooding, 1,718; Worley, 868, and Hawbaker, 1,624.

N. Neiman Craley Jr., is the apparent winner of the Congress race in Adams, Cumberland and York Counties. Gooding showed a gain in Adams County as a result of Friday's count. York County is tabulating its 2,600 absentee ballots today and Cumberland County 1,600.

SCHOOL WINNERS

The other school winners were Marlin Pentz, of Bermudian Springs; Kenneth Laughman, New Oxford; Wayne Keefe, Gettysburg, and Frank Snyder, Fairfield.

All of the participants were judged on the basis of a score.

82 ELIMINATED

The count was complete with the exception of those whose ballots were challenged. They will be notified they may appeal the challenge, with November 20 set as the time for the appeals.

The commissioners and their special clerks began Friday's count with 589 ballots returned by more than 600 to whom ballots had been sent.

In the first check of the envelopes in which the ballots were mailed to the county eliminated 37 immediately. Twenty-six civilians and 11 of the military had failed to fill out properly the declaration on the outside of the envelope in which the ballots were mailed — either by failing to sign their names at all or, in the case of some, printing their names instead of writing them.

SLOW PROCESS

Of the 552 that remained after the first check, 248 were civilian and 304 military.

Then began the slow process of checking all names against the envelopes a second time, this time by district, to determine whether those of persons who received absentee ballots because of illness had the forms properly filled out. A total of 29 were eliminated, all from the civilian absentee list, because the persons listed a physician as treating them, then did not have the physician's signature on the form. The law provides that if a person is ill and does not list a physician any qualified elector may certify they are ill. But if an attending physician is listed, then he must sign the form.

219 CIVILIAN VOTES

Attorney John A. MacPhail was the Republican watcher for the count and Fred G. Klunk, county Democratic chairman, was the Democratic watcher. They served as the checkers to determine whether the forms were signed by physicians. MacPhail got credit for 19 challenges and Klunk 19.

That brought the civilian vote down to 219. On opening the civilian ballots, it was found that five of the voters had not placed their ballots inside the sealed envelope inside the mailing envelope and those ballots also were put in the "challenged list," thus reducing the number of civilian ballots finally to 214.

Opening of the military vote revealed 11 had not placed their ballots in the sealed inside envelope and those also were removed from the vote to be counted.

270 STRAIGHT TICKETS

Of the 507 votes finally counted 270 were "straight" tickets — 158 Republican and 112 Democratic. The absentee vote was: Goldwater-Miller, 232; Johnson-Humphrey, 269. There were three write-in votes for Presidential elector, one for Nixon-Lodge, one for Lodge-Scranton and one com-

MARGINS FOR WINNERS ARE WIDENED BY 507 ABSENTEES

Congressman George A. Gooding and U. S. Senator Hugh Scott were the greatest gainers in the tabulation of the absentee ballots by the Adams County Election Board Friday.

The Adams County commissioners and special clerks comprising the election board completed the count shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night. The work began in the commissioner's office in the courthouse at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Senator Scott showed a gain of 193 over the vote he had for Senator as of the completion of the official county last Friday. Congressman Gooding gained 145 votes; State Senator D. Elmer Hawbaker gained 126 votes; Assemblyman-elect Francis Worley 63 and President Johnson 37.

WASHINGTON (AP) — One week from Sunday, the first anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, a steady procession of visitors from near and far will stop at his grave in Arlington National Cemetery to place wreaths.

Among those listed is the presidential helicopter detachment — the group that tearfully Kennedy from the White House to nearby airfields and also took him on other short hops.

Red Strike Costs Italy $56 Million

ROME (AP) — The week-long Communist union strike against Italy's railway system entered its final day today. The walkout cost the economy an estimated $56 million.

The Italian General Confederation of Labor, however, threatened still further strikes against the state-owned system because its contract dispute remained unsettled. It is seeking increased benefits for state employees.

Non-Communist unions refused to join the walkout, which since Monday has thrown the system's more than 2,200 daily trains into chaos.

Plans Are Drawn To Merge Churches

TORONTO, Ont. (AP) — A blueprint for uniting Canada's two largest Protestant churches into the Church of Canada has been completed, but leaders of both said realization is still years away.

The plan for uniting the Anglican and United Churches of Canada into a communion of nearly four million persons was three years in preparation. Talks on church union first started in 1943.

Under the proposed union, baptism and the Lord's Supper would be the only two sacraments recognized. Five lesser sacraments traditionally recognized by the Anglicans — marriage, ordination, anointing the sick, penance and confirmation — would be dropped.

Report Laser Beam Tracks Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first successful tracking of a satellite by a laser beam — a concentrated ray of light — was reported Friday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The agency said scientists hit the satellite, Explorer 22, with laser beams at least 10 times in the past month and are optimistic about future possible use of light beams in space work.

Laser guns are mounted on telescopes at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., and at a General Electric Co. station at Phoenix, Ariz.

160,000 FORD WORKERS FACE LONG LAYOFF

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The Ford Motor Co.'s 160,000 hourly workers today face the possibility of a total layoff sometime next week over labor trouble still brewing nearly two months after agreement on a national contract.

However, hope persisted that this might be avoided.

Ford, blaming parts shortages from United Auto Workers' local strikes at eight factories, laid off 33,500 men Friday in plants around the country.

This brought the total idle to 57,600, including the 24,100 on strike. Ford has said its entire 90-plant system may become idle by next week.

Ford and the union agreed on a national contract Sept. 18. It does not become effective, however, until supplementing local agreements are reached at all the plants.

NO CHANGE

There was no apparent change in the company-union standoff since Ford agreed Friday to meet with the UAW's national Ford bargaining committee. The meeting is set for next Thursday.

But both Ford and the UAW expressed hope the meeting might not be necessary.

"We see no reason why the current ill - advised strikes should be continued that long," said Ford Vice President Malcolm Denise.

Ken Bannan, director of the UAW's Ford department, said he hoped all issues could be solved before Thursday.

Bannan said a purpose of the meeting would be a union intent to "find out why" all local issues were not settled if the disputes were still unresolved by Thursday.

The company said it had been making 50,000 to 55,000 cars and 10,000 trucks a week prior to the strike and that this had been cut to 36,000 cars and 6,000 trucks last week with the parts plants closed.

A company spokesman said the production loss next week would be "much more severe." He declined to make any estimate.

Report 500 Red Lao Troops Defect

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reporting a favorable turn in the low-level war in Laos, U.S. officials say that more than 500 Communist Pathet Lao troops have defected to neutralist government forces.

Daily strikes of American-supplied F28 planes flown by the Royal Laos Air Force were credited with the upturn in the Laotian government's cause.

Sporadic air attacks in the early summer against Pathet Lao troop concentrations and road junctions have been stepped up within the past month.

Arrest Deserters After 20 Years

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet police have tracked down two World War II deserters who hid out for more than 20 years in the woods, the newspaper Sovetskaya Rossiya reported today.

The paper said Terenty Teryokha and his son, Vladimir, took refuge in the woods near their village in northeast Russia when the Soviet army drove out the Germans.

It said they lived in dugouts during the winter stealing food and supplies from nearby settlements. They made clothing from animal skins.

Character and courage go hand in hand, for each is essential to the other. We are born with courage to a greater or lesser degree, as a protective proposition, but character is something that we develop from day to day as a habitual experience.

We have to harbor courage every day of our lives, just to get along reasonably well, but a carefully balanced character is essential to take us through every emergency of life — safely and successfully.

In Tennyson's "Sir Galahad" you will come across these lines: "My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure." It is great character, in the end, that wins every contest in life and history. And the memory of those who greatly achieved because of high and noble character never seems to grow less in lustre.

We would accomplish so little without courage, and as for character it is the most valuable asset that any human being can have. The elder J. P. Morgan once said that he had often loaned a million dollars on character alone, and had called in a loan amply protected by usual collateral. In the selecting of men for high office, character means far more in the long run than more ability. W. H. Seward, whom so many in the East expected would be nominated for President at the Chicago convention, instead of Lincoln, who finally won it, was a man of scholarly attainments who looked upon Lincoln as his inferior — but time has proved that character meant exceedingly more — and Lincoln lives on and on.

It takes both courage and character to round out a life. Where they are you will find patience, kindness, consideration for the feelings of others, humility, and a spiritual valuation placed upon everything of worth. The only friend upon whom we can count at all times and under all circumstances is that one with character.

Character and courage stay by one. You have nothing to fear if you own them both. You are finely armed for any emergency. With them you can look any man in the eye and impress him with the fact that you are master of yourself!

How much of years gone by

How much of me shall be

Talked of as heritage?
How far does life extend
Backward, before?
Where does it start and end?
Can one explore

Gettysburg High School Warriors put their own icing to an outstanding football season by romping to a 41-7 win over the Biglerville Cannons much to the surprise of the 2,500 fans who witnessed the affair on Kurtz Field Friday evening.

Coach Don Young's tribe pulled down the curtain on the 1964 season with a 7-2-1 record, one of the best in the history of the school. The Warriors hadn't played that well since the undefeated 1951 team. On the other hand, Biglerville closed out its year with an extremely fine 5-5 state considering the preseason forecast and the small nucleus which started the season. Gettysburg posts a Blue Mountain League mark of 7-2 and the Cannons finish the league with a 5-4 record.

From all indications the game was to have gone down as a toss-up but Biglerville was moving in against the most improved club in the area. As the game progressed there was little doubt as to the superiority of the Warriors. However, the Cannons had but one weakness and that was a defense on the outside running game. The Warriors spotted this and went to work setting up most of their scores by sweeping the ends.

RAFFENSPERGER RECOVERS

Biglerville, using a quick count, pounded away at the Gettysburg forward wall early in the game. With the exception of three plays, the entire first period was played in Warrior territory. Gettysburg received its first break late in the period when Charlie Raffensperger recovered a John Pitzer fumble on the Warrior 20. Gettysburg took just eight plays to move the ball down field for the first score. Quarterback Dick Finkboner, who tallied three times and hit on five of six placements, zigzagged up the sidelines for the last 22 yards of the 80-yard drive. A key block by Tom Hefflin cut Finkboner loose for the TD romp. The bulky signal caller booted the placement with seven seconds to go in the period.

The Warriors ran off most of the clock in the second quarter, but only because of a number of penalties and the fact that they were being held to short ground gains. Footballs started popping and runners began breaking away late in the frame as three touchdowns were scored within two of the last 2:15 minutes of the half.

Midway through the period, Gettysburg gained possession on their 24 via a Cannon punt. It took the Warriors 12 plays to move to the Biglerville 23. Finally, on the 13th play, end Bill Jones went down, faked in, turned and stepped towards the corner of the end zone, took a pass from Finkboner on the four and stepped over for the second score. The placement by Finkboner was good.

62-YARD CANNER TD

Three plays after the kickoff, Biglerville was on the scoreboard. The Cannons took the kickoff on their own 38. Terry Taylor was stopped at the line and Greg Dixon tossed an incomplete aerial to Bob Lancaster. On the third play, Coach Jack Emanuel sent in Larry Dennis to throw the ball. He did just that. Dennis flipped a bullet over the line eight yards into the arms of Lancaster cutting across the middle. Lancaster then streaked for the sidelines and one the Gettysburg 30 stepped out the last pair of arms owned by Raffensperger and shot for pay-dirt territory. Bob Cover booted the placement and the score was cut to a 14-7 count in favor of the Warriors.

Gettysburg lost little time in coming right back and putting the game out of reach for the Cannons. The Warriors took the ensuing kickoff and marched 67 yards on four plays with Finkboner winding up things by floating a perfect aerial into the waiting hands of Jones over the right shoulder. Jones took the pass on the nine and jaunted in for the 25 yard scoring play. Gettysburg led 21-7 at intermission.

FINKBONER RUNS 80

Finkboner exhibited his tremendous, powerful speed early in the third period when he galloped 80 yards for the fourth Gettysburg touchdown. The Warriors gained possession on their 20 following a Cannon boot. On the first play from scrimmage, Finkboner slanted off the left side of the line then cut back towards the center of the Biglerville secondary and like a shot, exploded over the middle of the field. John Pitzer made a final desperate attempt to catch him on the 14, but missed by a hair. The Warrior field general missed his only attempt for a conversion only after the home forces were penalized for backfield in motion.

Raffensperger set the stage for the fifth score. The Gettysburg defensive safety picked off a Dixon pass on the Biglerville 38 and streaked 36 yards to the two. On the next play Ron Plank drove off left guard for the score. Gettysburg added its final TD in the fourth period after Tom Oyler recovered a Taylor fumble on the Gettysburg 35. Ten plays after the bobble, Finkboner climaxed the 65-yard drive with an 11 yard skirt of right end.

Emanuel took advantage of the situation by playing most of his reserves throughout the late minutes of the third period and most of the fourth quarter. Coach Don Young had most of his JV's dress for the game, but did not use them.

LIONS HOPE TO UPSET BROWNS WITH ROOKIE

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dennis Gaubatz will be the man in the middle Sunday when the Detroit Lions try to extend their National Football League mastery of the Cleveland Browns.

Gaubatz, a second-year pro making his 1964 starting bow, has a pair of big assignments in the pivotal inter-division game at Cleveland—replace all-pro middle linebacker Joe Schmidt and stop all-pro fullback Jimmy Brown. If the 23-year-old LSU alum has any success, the underdog Lions—who never have lost a regular season game to Cleveland—may be able to stall the Browns' Eastern Division championship drive and keep themselves in the Western Division title picture.

BILLS FACE TASK

Division crowns in the American Football League can be all but wrapped up too Sunday when the Buffalo Bills risk their perfect record against the Boston Patriots and the San Diego Chargers meet the Kansas City Chiefs. The Bills are 2½ games in front of the Patriots in the East and the Chargers have a two-game bulge over the Chiefs in the West.

Detroit and the Los Angeles Rams trail Baltimore by 2½ games in the NFL's Western race. The Colts, riding an eight-game winning streak, may have trouble with the Minnesota Vikings, who upended them 34-24 in the season opener. The Rams meet the oft-tamed Chicago Bears at Los Angeles.

CARDS VS. GIANTS

The St. Louis Cardinals, two games behind Cleveland in the East, get another shot at the New York Giants, 34-17 upset winners in the teams' first meeting. Green Bay is at San Francisco, Philadelphia at Dallas and Washington at Pittsburgh in other NFL games.

The New York Jets visit the Denver Broncos and the Oakland Raiders play host to the Houston Oilers in AFL games.

The Lions' Schmidt suffered a dislocated shoulder early in last Sunday's loss to Green Bay. Gaubatz, a 6-foot-2, 220-pounder, inherits the middle linebacker's watchdog role against Brown, who needs only 66 rushing yards for his sixth 1,000-yard season. He romped for 121 yards against Washington last week.

SEEKS 10TH WIN

Buffalo, only unbeaten pro club, goes after victory No. 10 before a sellout crowd at War Memorial Stadium. The Patriots topped the Bills 26-8 last season in a playoff for the Eastern title. They play each other again in this year's finale.

San Diego has won five straight behind the passing of John Hadl and Tobin Rote while Kansas City has taken two in a row, with quarterback Len Dawson hitting for 10 touchdown passes.

The Jets, who dropped a 20-7 decision to Buffalo last week, face elimination in the Eastern race with an injury-riddled defensive secondary. They drubbed Denver 30-6 two months ago.

The Houston-Oakland rematch shapes up as an aerial circus, with the Oilers first in the AFL in passing yardage and the Raiders second. Oakland has slipped from a 10-4 record in 1963 to 1-7-1 this year. The rebuilding Oilers have dropped seven of nine.

College Booters Bow To Lions 7-1

The Gettysburg College soccer team closed a dismal season Friday when it suffered a 7-1 drubbing at the hands of Penn State at University Park. The contest was originally scheduled for today.

John Colestock booted a bullet goal in the third period to avert a shutout.

The Bulldogs closed their season with a 4-10 record.

Cassius Clay Undergoes Hernia Surgery Friday; Title Bout Is Postponed

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay underwent a successful operation for a hernia Friday night that forced an indefinite postponement of Monday's scheduled rematch with Sonny Liston. It is unlikely that the bout will be held within six months.

Clay was stricken Friday night after dinner and was rushed to Boston City Hospital where Dr. William McDermott of Harvard performed an "easy" one-hour operation that he called "common but serious."

Dr. McDermott said Clay could resume fairly normal physical activity in about a month and would have to lay off any heavy labor for three months. The 22-year-old champ would not be ready to box in competition until after another long conditioning process.

ALL AGREE

"The championship bout will be held in Boston when Clay is fit," said Herman Greenberg, chairman of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission. Representatives of all parties involved indicated they were in agreement. When Liston first heard the news at his Plymouth, Mass., training camp, he commented, "No wonder he got a hernia running up and down like a wild man." Later, after the operation, he added, "It could have been worse. It could have been me."

Clay had just finished eating dinner in his hotel suite with Drew (Budini) Brown, his friend and assistant trainer, when he became ill.

IN "BAD PAIN"

"He got violently sick and started to throw up," said Brown. "His stomach swelled up the size of a football. I wanted to call a doctor but Clay said 'no, get me to a hospital quick. I'm in bad pain.'"

An ambulance rushed the

Delaware Outruns Bullet Harriers

Delaware took the first four places to easily defeat the Gettysburg College cross-country squad 16-45 at Newark, Del., Friday, the meet having been moved up one day on the schedule.

Jerry Staub finished fifth for the best Gettysburg effort. Gettysburg finished its campaign with a 4-8 mark.

Summaries:
1. Joe Gaglie, D. 22:45; 2. Phil Anderson, D. 22:53; 3. James Stafford, D. 22:53; 4. John O'Donnell, D. 22:57; 5. Jerry Staub, G. 23:01; 6. Doug Cox, D. 23:18; 7. Bob Beares, G. 23:33; 8. champion to the hospital while wild rumors began to spread in press headquarters downtown.

Sam Silverman, the local co-promoter with Inter-Continental Sports, Inc., hustled to the hospital. Shortly afterward he announced the fight had been postponed indefinitely.

NO INSURANCE

Garland (Bill) Cherry, attorney and also a stockholder in Inter-Continental, said there was no insurance carried on the fight.

Frederick Brooks, president of Sportvision, the closed circuit firm that hoped to fill 600,000 theater and arena seats with this telecast, was unable to estimate his losses immediately. Asked if it could be as high as $250,000, Brooks said, "It could be somewhere around that but I couldn't even guess. There are so many things involved."

LISTON ANNOYED

The delay was particularly aggravating to Liston who admits to 30 years. The former champion had hoped to regain some of the prestige he lost Feb. 25 when he lost his title to Clay while sitting on a stool when the bell rang for the seventh round. Liston said he had injured his left shoulder in the Miami fight.

Liston's camp had to decide whether the fighter should wait for a Clay to recover or take another bout with some other contender. It was not expected that he would risk his rematch by boxing anybody else.

While Clay was waiting for the surgeons to decide if an operation was necessary, Dr. McDermott said one of the nurses asked the champ: "You're the greatest, aren't you?" "Not tonight," was the answer.

Kathy Whitworth Leading Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, Marlene Hagge and Shirley Englehorn held the one-two-three spots today as the third round of the San Antonio Civitan Open Golf tournament got under way.

Miss Whitworth, last year's winner, birdied three of the last five holes Friday for a par 72 and a two-round leading score of 142.

Mrs. Hagge is 74-70 for 144 and Miss Englehorn has 70-75 for a third-place 145. Competition is over the 6,200-yard Pecan Valley Country Club course. Action ends Sunday in the $10,000 tournament.

MSU HOPES TO PULL RUG FROM IRISH ELEVEN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We hope to pull the magic rug out from under this Armenian rug salesman," said Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty.

Ara Parseghian is coach of unbeaten Notre Dame, not a rug salesman as Daugherty jokingly labeled him.

But Parseghian and his renovated Fighting Irish try today to extend the magic that has catapulted them to the No. 1 spot in the country. They play Michigan State, a team that has defeated Notre Dame teams eight straight times since 1954.

MIAMI BEATS

In a Friday night game, Miami won its third straight, crushing Boston College 30-6 as Bob Biletnikoff scored touchdowns on runs of 20 yards and one yard.

Parseghian was cautious but confident about his team's chances for its eighth victory. "They're not so awfully big, but they're quick," the coach said Friday. "They are aggressive. They pursue and gang tackle. They swarm all over you. The pressures are heavy, but our boys will not shy from them."

The Irish go into the game with the nation's best defense against rushing while the Spartans are rolling along on a three-game winning streak after dropping three of their first four games.

ALABAMA POISED

Ready to take over the No. 1 position if Notre Dame stumbles is Alabama, second-ranked and undefeated in eight contests. The Crimson Tide, however, have their own tough battle against 10th-ranked Georgia Tech. Alabama reportedly has accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl.

Arkansas, No. 3, can clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference championship by defeating Southern Methodist, Texas, the league's runner-up and ranked fifth in the nation, plays Texas Christian.

The same story that said Alabama is going to the Orange Bowl stated that a Texas victory would make the Longhorns the Crimson Tide's opponent.

OTHER BATTLES

The Big Ten picture could become clearer after the day's events are over. Seventh-ranked Ohio State, Big Ten leader with a 4-0 record, meets Northwestern while runners-up Purdue and sixth-ranked Michigan, each 4-1, clash with Minnesota and Iowa, respectively.

Oregon State, No. 8 and co-leader in the Pacific Athletic Conference, goes after its third league triumph against Stanford. UCLA does the same against Washington.

Louisiana State, rated ninth, tries to remain in the bowl picture in a game with Mississippi State.

A six-yard touchdown aerial with nine seconds of play remaining gave the Littlestown High School football team a 7-0 verdict over Spring Grove in a York County League game Friday evening before a big crowd at Littlestown.

Quarterback Jim Blocher connected with Terry Pottorff, halfback, for the lone touchdown which gave Littlestown its second straight win and an overall 3-7 record, all in league competition, for the season. Spring Grove wound up with an overall 2-7-1 record.

A short punt into a stiff wind gave Littlestown the break it needed to score. The Rocket kick carried only to its 27-yard line.

Blocher, on a deep passing formation, fooled the opposition and raced 21 yards for a first down on the six. On the next play Blocher started to run to his left and then fired a short toss to Pottorff at the goal line. Bruce Crouse made the final score 7-0 with his conversion on a placement kick.

MAKE TERRIFIC STAND

A terrific goal line stand by Littlestown in the third period was a highlight of the hard-fought game.

Forced into a punting situation, the Thunderbolts were in hot water when the pass from center sailed over Pottorff's head with Spring Grove taking the ball on the Littlestown two-yard line. The Bolts lost 35 yards on the play.

Spring Grove was unable to move against the rock-ribbed Bolt defense. Earl Ginter lost one yard on his first try and was stopped for no gain on his second carry. A short pass fell incomplete and again Ginter was sent into the line but he was stopped at the two.

QUICK EXCHANGE

Littlestown had a scoring opportunity in the first period when Tim Chrismer partially blocked a Spring Grove punt to give the Bolts the ball on the Rockets' 31 but on the next play Larry Altland recovered a fumble for Spring Grove.

In the second period Spring Grove made a bid for a score by driving to the Littlestown 30 but on a fourth down situation Tom Leese was tossed for a 15-yard loss on a passing attempt.

Ginter, the top ball carrier for the losers, broke away on a 25-yard run in the third quarter to put the ball on the Littlestown 39 but the Rockets finally were forced to give up the pigskin at the 25 when a passing barrage failed.

Coach Bill Helser's entire squad led by one of its finest exhibitions of the season with particular mention going to the linemen who refused to budge in critical situations.

Orchard sprayers need a good cleaning before being stored. This is important because most sprayers represent a large investment and special cleaning after seasonal use prolongs the machine's life.

Thomas E. Piper

Proper cleaning is especially important when using certain spray materials which can cause excessive deterioration of sprayer parts if allowed to remain in contact with these parts for a few weeks or months. This can happen despite efforts of manufacturers to use resistant materials in the construction of their machines.

Instruction manuals sometimes contain specific information on cleaning tanks, pumps, valves and other parts. When available, follow the manufacturer's recommendations. When they are not available, follow this suggestions for cleaning sprayers before storing:

Operate the sprayer for half hour with clean water to flush the tank and distribution system thoroughly. Disassemble the nozzles and strainers or screens and clean in gasoline or kerosene using a soft bristled brush. A knife blade or any metal scraper should not be used for cleaning nozzles, screens or strainers.

Before reassembling nozzles, pump more clean water through the system to release any particles which may be lodged in the distribution pipes near the nozzles.

Pour two to five gallons of machine oil in the tank and fill with water. Then pump the tank dry. As the water leaves the sprayer, a uniform coating of machine oil remains on the inside of the tank, pump, valves and distribution system to protect these parts from rust.

Finally check all drainage points to be sure all water is removed from the system to prevent possible damage from freezing.

The gardening season is over for another year. With the onset of cold weather, children and pets beginning to seek warmer play areas in garages and basements.

Now — before an accident happens — round up those left-over or partially used garden tools and chemicals. Sort them out carefully.

Materials that will be usable next season should be placed in a cabinet or place that can be securely locked. Be sure that all materials are kept in their original containers.

Never transfer chemicals to unlabeled bags or bottles. Not only is this a hazard to children or other people, but next season you may not remember which brown bottle contained which chemical. The weed killer in the plain brown bottle may end up killing valuable tomatoes. After securing all needed chemicals under lock and key safely dispose of the rest of the materials. Don't place chemicals in the sewer system or septic tank. Unwanted chemicals should be emptied into a hole dug in the ground and covered with soil at least 18 inches deep. Sites of holes filled for this purpose should not be near trees or plants or where water sources could become contaminated. After emptying, glass containers should be broken and metal containers punctured before disposal to prevent reuse.

PIGS NEED PROTECTION

It won't be long before winter is here and this means protection for your new born pigs will be necessary.

For the first couple of days after farrowing, a little pig can't endure coldness, dampness and drafts. This little pig has to be protected. A chilled pig at farrowing or shortly after farrowing is always a poor pig even if it survives. Drafts and dampness are profit cutters with all sizes and ages of hogs, but much more severe on the smaller pigs.

Old man winter won't let you make a profit on hogs you are feeding in an open lot. If the pigs are protected from his winds, drafts and dampness, they can be fed efficiently.

Just remember, that the most efficient pork is produced in a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees when there are no drafts and it is relatively dry. The closer you keep to this type of environment during the winter, the more efficient your swine enterprise will be. Shut the door on old man winter.

Farmers Ask More Study On Proposal To Buy Big Chain Of Food Markets

Delegates to the state convention of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association at Scranton this week refused to approve a recommendation that the American Farm Bureau Federation negotiate for the purchase of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Stores.

Instead, they approved a recommendation that the purchase of controlling interest in any chain food store by the AFBF be delayed until further study of the matter.

That was the stand taken by the PFA on the first of 85 policy statements submitted by their Policy Development Committee after examination of recommendations from the various county units. A dozen or more of the proposals, covering a wide range of subjects, were rejected but scores were approved as setting forth the position of Pennsylvania farmers on current issues. Adams County delegates attended.

REJECT INCOME LEVY

They rejected a proposal that a net income tax be substituted to bring relief to real estate from school taxes. They adopted a recommendation asking further action to provide more protection for underground water rights for the farmers and strongly advocated a broad program designed to increase net incomes of dairy farm families. The farmers reaffirmed their faith in the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission as a means of orderly marketing of Pennsylvania's dairy products.

In other declarations, the farmers urged that national farm programs move in the direction of less government regulation and recommended that where price supports are used that they be used as an insurance device rather than as an income measure. Another statement opposes all forms of "compensatory payments" to offset depressed market prices.

Other policy statements included: Recommendation that PFA members voluntarily carry adequate liability insurance and workmen's compensation insurance but opposed compulsory insurance plans; urged that sales of farm commodities to communist countries be only on a cash basis and at prices not less than the world market price; favored a requirement that high voltage power lines be placed underground, and asked farm boards to apply the point system for farm deferments.

Other stands included: Favored a constitutional amendment requiring that candidates for U. S. Senate be a state resident for at least two years before campaigning; favored retention generally of present systems of local government; favored broadening of the drought relief program; favored changing the state constitution by amendment; asked legislation to require a referendum on annexation questions in second class townships; tabled a statement opposing extension of parimutuel betting in this state; favor legislation to make parents responsible for damage caused by their unmarried minor children.

OPPOSES MEDICARE

On the question of reapportionment, the farmers favored an amendment to the federal constitution providing for representation in one house based on population and on some other basis in the other; favored moves with caution in the direction of area technical schools; opposed federal aid to education; opposed medicare or other new burdens for the Social Security system; urged that public utilities be required to pay land taxes; and favored a federal income tax

They favored creation of a property tax survey commission; asked the state to put on a major drive to improve secondary roads; asked that state egg weight standards be made to conform to USDA standards; urged that international commodity agreements on beef be cancelled and that meat imports be limited.

OK CLOUD SEEDING

On the subject of cloud seeding the farmers okayed legislation to license cloud seeding operators after a public hearing for the area affected but asked a two-year limit be put on the licenses. They asked more research of the subject of weather modification.

Repeal of the wheat certificate program was urged and suggested the support price for wheat be based on the average of the preceding three years. They asked termination of the present feed grain program enacted in 1961 as a temporary measure; asked that farmers be permitted to sell their own milk in consumer-owned containers at the farm; opposed new controls by government on the migrant labor program on the grounds that the present system is satisfactory.

FATHER KILLS INFANT

NEW YORK (AP) — A pumpkin hurled down in anger from a fourth-floor window by Ralph Pierro, 25, at his wife, Lorraine, missed her but struck their 3-month-old son, Ralph Jr., injuring him fatally Thursday, police said.

Pierro was charged with homicide.

GIRL MYSTIC AIDS SEARCH

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — A blue-eyed blonde teen-ager, believed to have psychic powers, has been called into the search for a missing boy.

She is high school sophomore Linda Anderson, 15, of nearby Billerica. Her father, Arthur, a hypnotist in his spare time, says she has psychic powers.

Three times Anderson put Linda into a trance Thursday night during the search for little Kenneth Mason, 5. On one occasion, while seated in the rear seat of a police cruiser, she said — from a hypnotic trance: "The boy is not in the river. He is in a house."

Police Capt. Richard Cullen said Linda's leads "are certainly worth investigating. We think she's marvelous."

He said he also was convinced the boy was not in the Concord River, which runs near his home.

A house-to-house search was being made today as investigators feared possible foul play in the boy's disappearance. He has been missing since Tuesday.

Says Population Explosion Control Up To Government

By JOHN RIDDICK

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Margaret Sanger, founder of the birth-control movement, has little hope that the population explosion will be controlled.

"I just don't see how we can control the birth rate until we get the government to agree that this is something that should be taken seriously," said Mrs. Sanger in a recent interview.

"Other countries feel that if our country is against it, it must be bad," she continued. "Americans would be much more acceptable when they go abroad to work on this problem, if we could get our government to okay it under population control."

POINTS TO JAPAN

Mrs. Sanger, who once challenged President Dwight D. Eisenhower to debate whether birth control is a proper concern of government, advises her country to follow Japan's example.

"The first time I went to Japan, I didn't get anywhere," she said. "But when I went back after the war, I found that quite a movement had been building up. We could do well to copy the Japanese on this."

However, she is not so optimistic about finding a solution to India's population problem.

SEES CATHOLICS CHANGING

"The difficulty there is the language," she explained. "Even Mr. Nehru didn't speak all the languages of India."

Mrs. Sanger said she is encouraged by what she sees as a change in the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church.

But what the birth-control movement still needs most of all is education, she said. "Education is needed mainly among the poor and illiterate. I began the movement really because of them."

When she began her crusade to make birth control a public issue and a private possibility back in 1912, the whole subject was taboo.

JAILED 8 TIMES

"I had to be very careful about the words I used," Mrs. Sanger recalled. "Even my father — an outspoken Irishman who brought me up to do my own thinking — said to me one day: 'Margaret, can't you find some other subject in the world to talk about besides the bedroom?' And he whispered when he said 'bedroom'!"

Although she was jailed eight times for her efforts to spread information, Mrs. Sanger isn't bitter.

LOOKING TO DRUG

"Every time I was put in jail, it was a mistake," she explained. "It was by somebody who didn't know anything and thought I was advocating abortion. Actually, I was trying to get people to give up abortion and use contraceptives."

Mrs. Sanger founded the Planned Parenthood organization and was its international president until just a few years ago.

Now she is looking forward to the development of a drug that would produce infertility for a certain period of time. "Injection is the best idea," she said. "That will be the great day when they have that."

Rockefeller May Be Candidate Again

NEW YORK (AP) — "It could be," said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York when asked at Kennedy Airport if he planned to run again.

And when newsmen asked him whether he referred to a third term as governor or another try for the Republican presidential nomination, Rockefeller said smilingly: "Let's leave it a little open."

The exchange came Thursday at a news conference after Rockefeller and his wife, Margaretta, arrived home from a 10-day vacation in Spain.

Rockefeller also was asked what he might do about Republican party unity. "There are 30 Republican parties, not just one," he said. "I'm concerned with revitalizing the Republican party of New York state."

The Democrats won a U.S. Senate seat from New York and control of the State Legislature in the elections Nov. 3.

TV Show Is Model For Student Gang

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Police said 12 high school students, accused of organizing a highly stylized burglary gang, say they got the idea from the new television series, "The Rogues."

The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were rounded up Thursday. Sheriff's deputies said the boys admitted 29 burglaries in the surrounding area, taking in a haul of about $3,500 in money, jewelry, cameras and television sets.

The teen-agers also called themselves "The Rogues," after the television series which deals with a group of sophisticated, international criminals.

Six were held on suspicion of burglary. The others were released to their parents.

Rustlers Force Help In Loading

TUKWILA, Wash. (AP) — Cattle rustlers added insult to injury when they stole Vincent Scarella's steers. They made him load the critters.

Police Chief Ed Boze said Scarella reported it this way: He was awakened by voices in a pasture early Thursday, investigated and was ambushed by three men with a shotgun. The rustlers forced him to load seven steers into his own truck and drive to a lonely section of highway.

There the steers were transferred to the rustlers' truck. They whipped up the horsepower and drove off leaving Scarella standing tall in the dust.

$250 of which she said she paid in the form of a deposit.

The complaint alleged that Roselli later entered into an agreement with Moore, granting him the right to solicit entrants in the Central Pennsylvania contest from Dauphin and York counties.

The suit said Roselli agreed to meet with the plaintiff on Nov. 6, but that he did not appear. The plaintiff asked to enjoin the pageant until she is reimbursed for alleged expenses, costs and loss of anticipated profits.

Mink Fugitives Raid Hen Houses

LONDON (AP) — Britain is threatened by a surfeit of mink. The fierce little rodents have colonized alongside rivers in the west country. They attack chicken farms when they run out of birds and fish.

Mink are not native to Britain. Escapees from mink farms started the trouble. The ministry of agriculture urged farmers to kill off the mink and said they could have a major problem on their hands.

Scranton Will Ask Boost Of $5 In Jobless Benefits

HARRISBURG (AP) — Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer disclosed today that the Scranton Administration hopes to seek a $5 increase in maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits.

But at the same time, he warned that the Administration will "fight to the last ditch" any bill designed to do away with the program enacted in a special session this year.

"We will recommend a further increase in weekly benefits in 1965... if it is within the fiscal capability of the fund," Shafer told the 47th annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce.

WANTS $50 WEEKLY

"Maximum weekly benefits could go from $45 to $50 a week," he said in his prepared text.

The Administration, in a heated battle with organized labor and legislative Democrats, succeeding in revising the state's Unemployment Compensation Program in as controversial a debate as has been heard for many years on Capitol Hill.

The program increased the maximum weekly payment from $35 to $40, but also tightened the eligibility requirements to such an extent that many of the previously eligible unemployed were removed from the U.C. rolls.

The new law also revised employer contribution schedules so that the tax rates of some went up, others went down.

DEFENDS FIGHT

Shafer defended the controversial law as one of "the most vital elements" of the Administration's program for the economic development of the state.

"The U.C. fund has been greatly strengthened by the 1964 Act and the balance is rising dramatically," he said. "We must do the best possible job for the unemployed, but we must do so within the limits of fiscal responsibility."

Shafer's speech outlined the Administration's legislative goals for 1965.

SALARY INCREASE

One major point he made was that the Administration would ask the General Assembly to raise the salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction from $22,500 to $30,000 a year.

Such an increase would make that office the highest paying state job next to that of the Governor, who earns $35,000 annually.

The position has been vacant since Dr. Charles H. Boehm resigned last May.

Much of the superintendent's policy-making responsibility has been shifted to the new State Board of Education, an agency created by Administration legislation. His is primarily an administrative position now.

Hold Mother, 23, In Death Of Son

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police are holding a 23-year-old mother of six on a general charge of murder pending an inquest into the death of her three-year-old son.

She is Mary Shreve of nearby Chalfant, whose child, Paul, died Wednesday night in a hospital of malnutrition and contusions. He weighed 12 pounds.

The boy's father, Herschel, 27, also was held Thursday as an accessory.

Before the child died, both parents had been charged with neglect, and additional charges of aggravated assault and battery had been filed against Mrs. Shreve.

Sinking, site of China's first atomic explosion, has all the geographic qualifications for a nuclear testing ground. Like many test areas, Sinking has rugged mountains, wind-swept plains and trackless deserts. Its name means New Frontier.

ADMITS SHE SHOT HUBBY, 2 CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — State police say a Washington County housewife has admitted shooting to death her husband and two children.

They said the woman, Mrs. Shirley Ann O'Brien, 29, then shot herself at about the same time Thursday that authorities discovered the bodies of her husband, William, 30; daughter, Diane, 7; and son, Danny, 4.

She was listed in fair condition at Washington Hospital with a gunshot wound of the chest. Police said a motive has not been determined and no charges have been filed.

BODIES FOUND

Coroner Farrell Jackson said the bodies were found in the O'Brien's two-story brick home in nearby North Strabane Twp. by a real estate agent, Ray Devore, who wanted to inform the family of developments in their plans to sell the house.

Jackson said they had apparently been dead a day or two. He said a note was found but its contents were not disclosed. The coroner said a .22 caliber revolver was used in all four shootings.

Police said the shootings occurred early Wednesday. Mrs. O'Brien flew to Chicago and back, registered at the Pine Valley Motel and shot herself, according to police.

Benny Experiences Real Car Trouble

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Jack Benny, often the victim of comic misfortunes on his television program, had a real one Thursday.

A car that was to bring the performer from the airport into the city traveled only a few feet before running out of gas. An embarrassed reception committee quickly found another vehicle.

Benny, who will play the violin in a benefit performance with the Utah Symphony Orchestra this evening, brushed the incident off with a shrug.

Suspect Robbery After Slaying

HARRISBURG (AP) — State police say attorney Lewis S. Kunkel may have been robbed after being slain Nov. 5 on his private game preserve in Lower Paxton Twp.

Lt. Charles S. Graci reported Friday that a week-long search has turned up Kunkel's missing wallet. The wallet was found in a small creek about 1,000 yards from where the body had been discovered.

James Robert Kautz, 24, of Duncannon R.D. 1 is being held in Dauphin Prison without bail charged with the murder of Kunkel, who was president of the Dauphin County Bar Association.

Graci said ballistics tests have been completed on a single-barrel, 12-gauge shotgun confiscated at the time of Kautz' arrest. The officer declined to discuss results of the tests.

Dr. Konick said that the Commonwealth contributed $970,000 last year and $1 million this year.

U. S. INCREASE

But by early 1965, the United States will have 925 ICBMs compared with 745 a year earlier.

"However," the report said, "this may be the last year in which the Western superiority in long-range striking power is so marked as the American ICBM program becomes substantially completed next year, and if the Soviet missile buildup is continued under (Premier Alexei N.) Kossygin and (First Secretary Leonid I.) Brezhnev."

The United States has increased its lead over the Soviet Union in fleet ballistic missiles under 2-to-1 to 4-to-1 during the past year.

The Soviet Union is building about 10 nuclear-powered submarines a year.

A reduction in Soviet conventional military power seems unlikely.

Takes One Year To Get A Broader Tub

LONDON (AP) — Joyce Norton got broader over the years. Her bathtub stayed the same width.

For a year she campaigned to persuade her landlord — the Town Council of suburban Uxbridge — to give her a new tub.

During the year three council members, two other officials and one social worker called to inspect both the tub and Mrs. Norton.

Thursday night the council's housing committee decided to install a new and broader tub.

Barry's Supporter Resigns Position

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government official who campaigned for Sen. Barry Goldwater in Hawaii has resigned.

Yoshiro Kikuchi, 74, gave up the post of vice parliamentary minister of science and technology on Nov. 2, the government announced Friday. Yazo Kotsuke, 69, succeeded him.

The government ordered Kikuchi home from Honolulu on Oct. 31 after word of his political activities reached Tokyo. Officials felt his campaigning was an interference in U.S. internal affairs.

An hour of farm work now produces twice as much yield as in 1950, and three times as much as in 1940, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

SEES 4-1 EDGE OVER RUSSIANS IN ICBM RACE

By ANTHONY WHITE
LONDON (AP) — The United States still have more than a 4-to-1 edge over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles by early 1965, but the Soviets may begin catching up after that, a leading British research institute estimated Friday.

The annual review of the Institute of Strategic Studies also said the Soviet Union is maintaining its numerical superiority in submarine strength and "there are indications that the Soviet naval air force and missile-firing submarines are coming to play a more central role in their strategy."

STRONG BOMBER FORCE
America's Strategic Air Command has clear superiority in the number of intercontinental bombers, the review reported, but the Soviet Union maintains a strong force of medium bombers capable of strikes at Japan or Western Europe.

The review said Communist China's army has little strategic mobility, because of primitive logistics, and its air force has only obsolescent aircraft.

Fugitive Runs From Agents But Not FBI

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Louis Paul Matanga, 33, crawled out of the rear window of a house Thursday when two insurance agents came to the door.

Matanga, who escaped from the Louisiana Penitentiary last June 26, said he thought the men were FBI agents who wanted to arrest him.

After the men left, he returned to the house. Then some other men came to the house and arrested him. They were FBI agents.

He had served six months of a 12-year term when he escaped.

EDUCATIONAL TV STATION TO OPEN MONDAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A state official says five new educational television stations will open operations in Pennsylvania by mid-1965, and will be linked with those now in use in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Dr. Marcus Konick, director of the Bureau of Instructional Materials and Services in the Department of Public Instruction, disclosed the pending formation of the new network Thursday night at a celebration honoring the first anniversary of station WHYI-TV on Channel 12 here.

In Pittsburgh, the educational TV station is WQED, Channel 13.

WTIF, Channel 33, at Hershey, goes on the air on Monday, and will serve a nine-county area under the operation of the South Central Educational Broadcasting Commission.

In January or February, WPSX, Channel 3, will open at State College and Clearfield giving Penn State University station facilities for the first time.

Allentown is scheduled to open its Channel 39 by May, followed shortly afterward by stations in Wilkes-Barre - Scranton and Erie.

Dr. Konick said the new education channels were conceived two years ago, but reached active realization through efforts of the Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Konick said that the Commonwealth contributed $970,000 last year and $1 million this year.

CHILDREN AND AGED WILL EAT PRIZE STEAKS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Three children's institutions and a home for the aged in Pennsylvania are going to be serving up some of the best beef steaks and lamb chops in the country, thanks to the generosity of buyers at the state's eighth annual livestock exposition.

At the show's auction sale Thursday, the Pennsylvania Meat Packers Association bought the 500-pound grand champion carcass steer for $607.92 and turned it over to the state Crippled Children's Hospital at Elizabethtown.

Kunzler and Co., Inc., of Lancaster made the high bid of $56.10 for the 51-pound grand champion lamb carcass and announced that it was being presented to Heart Haven, a children's hospital in Lancaster.

Bonfire Explodes, 6 Students Hurt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An exploding bonfire at a high school pep rally Thursday night injured six students.

Witnesses said the 35-40 feet high bonfire exploded when a student poured gasoline on it from the top.

Some 300-400 students were gathered around the bonfire at the Northshore High School pep rally when the accident occurred.

Johnny Crenshaw, 18, appeared to be the most seriously injured. He was blown off the top of the fire with his clothes afire.

C. D. Moyer and Co. of Silverdale, Bucks County, paid $272.34 for the 543-pound reserve grand champion steer carcass and divided it between the Good Shepherd Children's Home at Allentown and the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Philadelphia.

The grand champion steer carcass, exhibited by Jay E. Coble of Locust Lane Farms, Hershey R.D. 1, brought $1.02 a pound—more than double the 50-cent price brought by last year's winner.

The grand champion steer, "Johnny Cake II," an Angus exhibited by Jay W. Fought of Mechanicsburg R.D. 2, Cumberland County, was sold to Evans Super Thrift Store in Dillsburg. The 850-pound animal brought $1.15 a pound, or a total of $977.50. Last year's champion brought $2.01 a pound.

OTHER SALES
The grand champion barrow, a Yorkshire shown by Pennsylvania State University, was sold to Medford's, Inc., of Chester, for $1.36 a pound. It weighed 208 pounds.

The grand champion wether, a Southdown exhibited by 14-year-old Debra Howard of Mulhall R.D. 1, Okla., was sold to George's Foodliner, Bethlehem. It weighed 92 pounds and brought $1.15 a pound.

The reserve champion, a Hampshire shown by Jack Shober of Berlin, Rd. 4, Somerset County, was purchased by Arbogast and Bastian, Allentown, for Shaller and Webber, Long Island, N. Y., for 35 cents a pound. It weighed 113 pounds.

RAID 17 PLACES FRI. EVENING

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — State police raided 47 establishments in Lebanon County Friday night and seized what they termed a wide array of gambling paraphernalia.

Capt. Adrian McCarr, commander of Troop C, Reading, directed the raid, which also included officers from Harrisburg, Lancaster, Bethlehem and Jonestown.

McCarr said pinball machines, punchboards, raffle tickets, prizes and cash were seized in taverns, clubs, diners and service stations.

Stewards, officers of managers of the various places raided were arrested and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lester Kline of Jonestown R. D. 2.

McCarr praised local police for cooperating in the raids. Eighteen of the establishments hit were in the city of Lebanon.

Wins First Event At Toronto Show

TORONTO (AP) — Kathy Kusner, 24-year-old Olympic rider from Arlington, Va., captured the International Welcome Stakes, opening event in the International Horse Show at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Friday night.

Miss Kusner, who took the individual title at the National Horse Show in New York, rode Untouchable, a 9-year-old chestnut gelding, to victory in a jump-off after five riders registered clean trips over the nine-obstacle course in the first round.

Court Studies Murder Charge Against Chiropractor In Death Of Child With Cancer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An appellate court is deliberating today on a new legal concept of murder by fraud, and on its decision hangs the fate of Dr. Marvin Phillips, convicted of hastening a girl's death by quackery.

The charge against Phillips, 35, a chiropractor, is second-degree murder. Indications are that the case is the first murder conviction rising from a nonviolent fraud.

SEES NEW TRIAL
Defense Attorney Meivin Belli asked the District Court of Appeal for a new trial Thursday, contending a law defined medical quackery as a misdemeanor.

"The district attorney's office has wrongfully parlayed a misdemeanor into a second-degree murder case," Belli said.

Phillips was convicted in Superior Court Sept. 4, 1962. He was accused of shortening the life of Linda Epping, an 8-year-old cancer victim.

CHILD HAD EYE TUMOR
Linda, daughter of Herman Epping, a North Hollywood tool designer, had a tumor growing out of her eye, a rare form of cancer which is usually fatal.

The prosecution said an operation was canceled on the strength of assurances of a cure by Phillips, who treated the tumor with muscular manipulations, enemas and vitamin pills.

Linda died Dec. 29, 1961, about six months after the onset of the disease and five months after she was taken to Phillips.

The prosecution's main medical witness, Dr. Bradley Stratsma, who diagnosed the cancer, testified Linda's life could have been prolonged a minimum of two months had surgery been performed at the time Phillips entered the case.

CHARGED $500
The murder conviction stemmed from Phillips' $500 fee. Fraud involving more than $200 is a felony in California.

And the law, in most states, says any death growing out of a felony is murder.

Belli, who earlier this year defended Jack Ruby, slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, argues there is no precedent for basing a murder charge on a nonviolent crime such as fraud.

The three-member appellate court took the appeal under advisement.

CONVICTS ASK JURISTS FOR LAW VOLUMES

By JOHN L. TAYLOR
LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — There's the story about the governor touring a state penal institution when he was met in a narrow hallway by a life-term convict.

"Pardon me," the convict said as he brushed by.

A similar incident occurred here Thursday as 34 federal judges were touring the U.S. penitentiary and a prisoner called from his cell: "I hope you can cut some sentences."

The judges knew he was joking, and joined in the laughter.

At another point in the tour, U.S. Dist. Judge Francis L. Van Dusen of Philadelphia was approached in the machine shop by a young man in his late 20s who asked if more law books could be acquired for the prison library.

SERIOUS VISIT

"They don't have as many here as at Leavenworth or Atlanta," the prisoner complained.

Although the tour had its lighter moments, Warden O. G. Blackwell, who once headed Alcatraz, considered the visit a most serious thing.

"It gives the judges an opportunity to see what happens to a man after he's sentenced," Blackwell said. "We have the responsibility to carry out the sentence of the court. This shows the judges how we're doing it."

The tour was part of a three-day sentencing institute attended by U.S. District Court judges from the Third Circuit, comprising Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the Virgin Islands.

BRUNETTE IS "MISS WORLD"

LONDON (AP) — A statuesque British brunette danced into the early hours Friday to celebrate her coronation as Miss World of 1964.

She is Ann Sidney, 20, a hair stylist whose measurements are 36-24-36. She stands 5-foot-8 and weighs 132 pounds.

"The girls were wonderful. There was no bad feeling," said green-eyed Ann.

She collected $7,000 in prize money and screen tests.

The annual affair in London's Lyceum Ballroom usually produces considerable squabbling among contestants.

After her selection from among five finalists, Ann attended a televised ball at a plush restaurant with the 41 other contestants.

Miss United States, Jeanne Quinn, was among the 16 semi-finalists but failed to qualify in the finals.

Ana Maria Soria, 25, a model from Argentina, took second place and $1,400.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Richard Sandler, 80, former premier of Sweden and president of the League of Nations in 1934, died Thursday after a brief illness. Sandler was Sweden's delegate to the United Nations in 1947-60.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Strati Ralli, 88, prominent banker, died Thursday. Ralli, born in New York of British parents, ran a family banking business.

"Daniel Boone" Is Clincher For Ed Ames' Reputation As Actor

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

"There's no uggah-muggah or gibberish when Mingo talks Indian," says Ed Ames, the actor who talks for the Oxford-educated half-breed in "Daniel Boone." (NBC, Thursdays, 7:30 p.m.)

"For one thing I have too much respect for the remaining Indian population to fake it." For another thing, he doesn't have to ever since his high school days at the high-rated Boston Latin School he's been adept at languages and linguistics.

SINGING AMES

There's another point of pride, though. Having bucked unexpected opposition to become a serious actor, he makes sure now that he is taken seriously.

"You a singing Ames want to be an actor?" Some of the very agents, press people, who I thought would be for me just couldn't accept the idea."

The "singing Ames" image, of course, was pretty deeply engraved. The four boys from Maiden had been a top night club and theater attraction since they got out of school. By the time the act broke up they'd sold some 25,000,000 records.

SILENT PARTNER

"When my brothers wanted to open a club in Houston, I went along only as a silent partner. I left the active management up to them." As it happened, that first venture of theirs didn't work out.

On his own, though, Ed enrolled for drama study at the Herbert Berghoff Studio . . . and that's been paying off just great.

In 1961 he debuted off-Broadway in "The Crucible," in a straight role. "He's good," was the critical verdict. Next came a plum of a part for an actor who could sing and Ed got it, the lead in "The Fantasticks."

Fess Parker who's starring in the title role in "Daniel Boone" OK'd hiring Ed Ames (center) strictly on the basis of a stage performance. They'd never met. Now along with Albert Salmi (right) they're such good friends they even go out together after work. The NBC series is seen Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

TWO STAGE PARTS

Then came two stage parts and one television guest shot series. He'd also caught my that all combined to get him Broadway appearance with Kirk Douglas in 'One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest.' "PLAYED "CARNIVAL"

"Fes had seen me when I toured in 'Carnival.' So they sent me a plane ticket to go to the Coast and do the pilot."

And for an actor who wanted to prove a point, Ed had his field day with a dual role as the continuing character, Mingo, "half-Indian, half English," and his jealous all-Indian untutored half brother. "The conflict is most understandable. It's not so much that the brother was villainous, you see. Rather it's civilized man versus natural man."

MANY MINGOS

"There were many Mingos you know, at that period, though he is a composite and not a specific individual in the life of the historical Daniel Boone. One of U.S. Grant's generals was a Seneca. And there's a legend — though I personally don't believe it — that Sitting Bull was educated at West Point."

"What Indian dialect do I use? Well, though the base of them all is Oriental, there are as many different Indian languages as there are European. So far I've used half a dozen including Cherokee and Shawnee . . . but I'm not taking the time for actual language study. Our technical adviser David Humphries Miller, who's an outstanding authority (and who is the author of 'The Day Custer Fell') writes it out for me phonetically. Then after I've studied the lines I go over them with him for pronunciation and cadence . . . often on the phone."

ENJOYS PART

And if it all sounds as though Ed Ames is enjoying the actor's life he chose, well he is. Everything except being away from New York. "I finally moved the family to the Coast, but we've kept our roots in the East. I didn't sell our New Jersey home the way Joey Bishop and Corbett Monica did. I intend to come back, and furthermore I was lucky . . . I've got it rented. You see I'm an Easterner. I think we have a stronger sense of what America is all about, (Continued On Page 6)

Jack Paar avoids the Madison Avenue aura by maintaining his office in Bronxville, the gracious suburb where he lives. Still he does have "to go to work"; the office is a few minutes drive away.

IMPORTED SCOTCHMAN

David McCallum, who's co-starring in "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," says his father would have preferred his being a musician at home than an actor. "Being a Scotchman my father was thinking of my financial security when he suggested that actors seldom know where the next meal is coming from." The elder McCallum is a bandmaster.

EARNED WINGS

Les Crane, who was a member of the ROTC at Tulane, went into the Air Force as a lieutenant in 1956, became a multi-rated pilot and later a helicopter pilot instructor.

Something to think about: "Violent entertainment forms affect children in many ways... some may become actively delinquent, others passively jaded."

That's one of the disturbing conclusions in a "Ladies Home Journal" article which notes that by the time he's 14 "the average American child has witnessed the violent destruction of 13,000 human beings on television, mostly between 4 and 9 p.m. — 'the children's hour.'"

Years Mellow Godfrey, 61; Emcees 'Hollywood Palace'

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was a mellow, more confident Arthur Godfrey who dropped in town this week to perform his daily radio show and emcee a "Hollywood Palace" for ABC.

The mellowness comes partly from age and he surprises you when he says, "I am 61 years old — be 62 next August if I live that long." He looks scarcely over 40, his hair still rust-colored and unthinned, his face unlined.

GREAT CONFIDENCE

His confidence? Some of his detractors might argue he never lacked it. He says it is a recent acquisition.

"I never realized the dimensions of what I had acquired over the years," he commented at the Brown Derby between radio and television commitments. "I didn't really find out until three years ago, when I started to go out and face the public."

"When you've spent most of your working life in a small studio, sometimes completely alone, you don't develop any understanding of what you are capable of. Besides, there were plenty of people who helped to keep my confidence from growing."

KNOCKED BY COMICS

"When I was doing well in television, the old, established entertainers wouldn't accept me. They told gags like: 'Arthur Godfrey is a new kind of act in show business — all you have to do is show up.'"

"Sure, that hurt me, but I knew why they did it. I was something new, something they didn't understand. When they started in radio, they came on with 'Hello, ladies and gentlemen,' and they went into the same kind of acts they had done in vaudeville and on Broadway."

"When I was in the hospital in 1931, I studied radio before I decided to get into it. I knew there were no 'ladies and gentlemen' out there. There was just one guy and maybe he was in the bathroom or in his car and I had to reach him."

"The older comics couldn't understand what I was doing, so they knocked me."

MIAMI RADIO SHOW

Godfrey figures his turning point came three years ago when he was recording his radio show in Miami. The hotel management asked if visitors could be admitted to the broadcast in the dining room. Godfrey agreed and was astonished to see that he and his troupe could hold a big audience.

He recalled: "I decided to try a show in the dining room at night. It worked. I got an offer to play Las Vegas at $100,000, which was too good to pass up. I was so scared I spent most of the $100,000 on acts to surround me. Then I discovered that wasn't necessary."

Since then he has played night clubs and theaters including a run in "Our Town" last summer. Now he is talking about a tour of "Never Too Late." He'd like to take along a combo with which he would appear in night clubs after the play.

Godfrey looks fit for anything. It is six years since he came through an operation for lung cancer.

BOXER

In his college years actor Robert Ryan became the first freshman ever to win the Dartmouth heavyweight crown. He was undefeated in four years of intercollegiate boxing.

'GOMER' MAKES ANDY GRIFFITH SOUND YANKEE

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Every so often there comes along a performer who is such a natural as to be virtually an instant star. Just such a fellow is Jim Nabors.

He plays the title on CBS' Friday night comedy "Gomer Pyle—USMC," which surprised everyone by landing the No. 3 spot on the first big rating report of the season.

Jim Nabors was the most surprised of all. "Ah cain't remembuh ennuh comedy gotta big ratin' on Frیده naht; ah wuz scaired," said he—recorded phonetically.

HOLDS ACCENT

As you can gather, Jim is from the South—Sylacauga, Ala. At times his drawl becomes so acute he makes his mentor, Andy Griffith, sound like a Yankee.

"I tried to get rid of it once when I was working at the United Nations," said Jim. "But I just couldn't manage it."

Jim worked at a number of jobs after graduating from the University of Alabama in business administration. Among his last was assistant cutter at NBC. "I hated it," he recalled. "Some cutters have creative work, but all I was doing was slicing the film to put in commercials."

He was moonlighting at a Santa Monica night spot called The Horn. Though he never had an opera lesson in his life, he could belt out an aria with amazing skill. Then he's translate the words in his own "Bama rhetoric. He convulsed the audience, which, on one night, included Andy Griffith.

GRIFFITH SPOT

The result: A regular spot on the Griffith show, then his own series.

Jim is an easy moving chap with a mobile face and an off-center jaw. "I got a terrible bite," he remarked. "Lot of people call me slack-jawed, but it's that way because of a vitamin deficiency when I was a kid."

He is a bachelor who lives alone and doesn't particularly like it, especially the continual eating out. He's usually too tired or busy to cook for himself. When he isn't filming the series, he's touring the country to promote it.

"Andy and I have the same

HOW TO GET A OB

Whom do you have to know? "Maybe just yourself enough, to believe in you" sums up the advice of Sammy Jackson. He wasn't even in Hollywood when Warners were casting "No Time For Sergeants" so he wrote a letter asking for the job. Now he's star of the series.

And the scholarly Robert Earle landed the moderator's spot on "College Bowl" via the same route . . . except he telephoned and the producer happened to answer the phone himself.

EXCHANGE PLAN

Liza Chapman, now of the "Another World" serial taught "method acting" to a company of Chinese actors in Singapore in exchange for lessons in their centuries-old Mandarin theatre techniques.

FELLOW-GRADUATES

Both Jim Nabors and Ronnie Schell are enthusiastic about "the onion" . . . "The Purple Onion" they explain. Though both are appearing now on "Gomer Pyle," the San Francisco club "The Purple Onion" at different times lifted their fledgling careers from the doldrums.

business manager, and he gives us each $50 a week for spending money," said Jim. "I realized how busy I had been when I discovered I had six of the checks uncashed."

and there's no replacement for basic values. I also think schools in the East are better . . . but for the present the children will go to school in California." Ronnie is 11, Larry, nine and Sonya, five.

"TENNIS MANIAC"

"Don't I get to play more tennis in California? Oh you've heard I'm a tennis maniac," (tournament caliber at that). "Well we played outdoors nine months of the year in New Jersey . . . then we could play indoors."

One thing the California outdoors has done for him though is give a good burnished tan. His strongly boned features make him a natural for Mingo . . . but at the beginning he was getting a heavy coppery make-up.

HAPPY WITH SERIES

When he thinks about it, there is adequate compensation for being a temporary Westerner. "I'm certainly happy with the series. For one thing we have no tensions on the set. That's thanks to Fess, of course. The star sets the pace. Then too, he and Albert Salmi and I have become such good personal friends that we often go out together after work, too."

SNEAKS IN SINGING

And during the shooting hiatuses? Well, now that he's proven in some singing engagements. After all Ed Sullivan, once described Ames as "America's greatest pop singer." As a night club single he can write his own ticket. And RCA sees that he keeps up his recording dates . . . in fact, according to Winchell, Ed's latest album is a landslide success.

So in two fields and any language Ed Ames has it made . . . his long shot made sense and no uggah-muggah about that either.

Scott Clings To Lead Of 42,386

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—With absentee ballots counted in ten of the state's 67 counties, and Philadelphia's voting machine tally certified, incumbent Republican Sen. Hugh Scott holds an unofficial lead of 42,386 votes over his Democratic opponent, Miss Genevieve Blatt.

The unofficial total for Scott in the Nov. 3 U.S. Senate race, now stands at 2,360,865; Miss Blatt has 2,318,479 votes. The totals include complete and official returns from Adams, Bedford, Fayette, Greene, Montour, Perry, Pike, Snyder, Union and Warren County, reported Friday, plus the unofficial count without absentee ballots from all other counties.

An estimated 130,000 absentee ballots were mailed out from the 67 counties. It was not known how many were legally completed and returned.

One-celled animals such as the amoeba and paramecium never really die. The simplest living organisms grow old, but divide into two young cells that go on living and dividing.

Those three pretty "Petticoat Junction" girls just wound up a personal appearance and press-conference junket that saw them sometimes "doing" three cities in one day . . . and, says the admiring press agent who went along, "You wouldn't believe it, but none of them ever got mad, and none of them was ever even a minute late."

Now a "Daniel Boone" regular, Ed Ames had a tough time switching from singing to acting. Read about it in Ruth E. Thompson's November 15 article.

Dialing Around

Did you know that Fred Astaire's favorite dancing partner Barrie Chase and television writer Frank Chase are sister and brother? And for a change they're working together. He's a regular scripter for "Bonanza" and has authored the drama in which she'll guest on an upcoming stanza of life on the Ponderosa.

"Life Begins at Forty?" to revive a phrase. Well in the case of two chaps starring in their own series it sure did. Neither Paul Ford ("Bailey of Balboa") or John McGiver ("Many Happy Returns") had acted professionally until he became fortyish.

Incidentally with McGiver moving his family West to Hollywood for the filming, West Fulton in upstate New York — while not exactly a ghost town, mind you — is somewhat noticeably depopulated. John and his wife are the parents of 10 children. They'd been making their home in a remodeled century-old church.

With the fate of many of the newer series still in the balance, the film mills are busy turning out pilots of a whole new crop. One of the most "far out" is a comedy in which Jerry Van Dyke would star as a son who's considerate of his mother . . . and she's an automobile. But who knows? Fantasy sure is hot right now, and the folks behind it are the same ones who hit the winner's circle this year with "Gomer Pyle."

Feeling much better now, Carolyn Jones is finally taking a quick trip East after several postponements.

Advice from Arlene Francis . . . "Girls, if you think that it's coy and cute to keep a man waiting, you're right; and if there are two qualities in a woman that men can do nicely without, they're coyness and cuteness."

Lorne Greene, who rode a horse in his first Macy's Thanksgiving Parade in 1961, gets an easier assignment this year. For the second year in a row he'll be sharing the commentator's box with Betty White.

DOUBLE HONORS

In recent weeks CBS Music Director Alfredo Antonini has been the recipient of two awards.

At a ceremony in New York at the Italian Consulate he was presented with the Cavaliere Ufficiale, the Order of Merit of the Republic of Italy, for his contributions to cultural life in the United States and Italy.

The other recent citation — Hadassah's Myrtle Wreath Award — was for "achievement in the field of music to further the cultural outlook of his country."

SIDELINE

Actress Allison Hayes is also a professional interior decorator.

FLYING DOG

Lassie is getting around almost as much in real life as in the long-lived CBS series. When the million-dollar collie gets to Hawaii that will mean she (or rather "he") will have visited all 50 states.

CHANGE IN PRODUCER

Stepping in as new producer for "The Reporter" series is Howie Horowitz, who was a co-creator of "77 Sunset Strip."

TRAVELOGUE

PREVIEW FOR PUBLIC — Cleopatra the lioness looks placid enough at this moment as she presents her cub quartet for first time to the press. The youngsters, three females and a male, were born in August at the Prospect Park Zoo in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Inger Stevens has just returned from her native Sweden where she's presided over a filmed tour to be televised later in the season in the United States.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR

Tennessee Ernie Ford, who joined the Air Corps in December 1941, flew in heavy bombers and was a bombing instructor for two years.

FAMILY TRAIT

Kathleen Larkin, who plays Larkin the student nurse on the daytime "General Hospital" series is the daughter of John Larkin who's currently starring in "12 O'Clock High."

H-B COOPERATION

It was David Brinkley who introduced Chet Huntley to Tippy Stringer who became Mrs. Huntley. The introduction took place over a closed-circuit TV because Chet works in New York while Brinkley's based in Washington. She was a Washington Weather Girl at the time.

FORMALITY

"Hazel" director Will Russell believes in dignity for all, addressed 12-year-old Bobby Buntrock as "Mr. Buntrock."

VETERAN ACTOR

Norris Goff, who plays the "Gomer Pyle" starred for 25 years as Abner on the "Lum and Abner" series.

ALSO WRITES

Marlin Perkins, curator of the St. Louis Zoo and host of NBC's "Wild Kingdom" has also written several books including "Zoo Parade" and "Mogul Finds A Friend." The latter is the true story of a little elephant that lived in Lincoln Park Zoo.

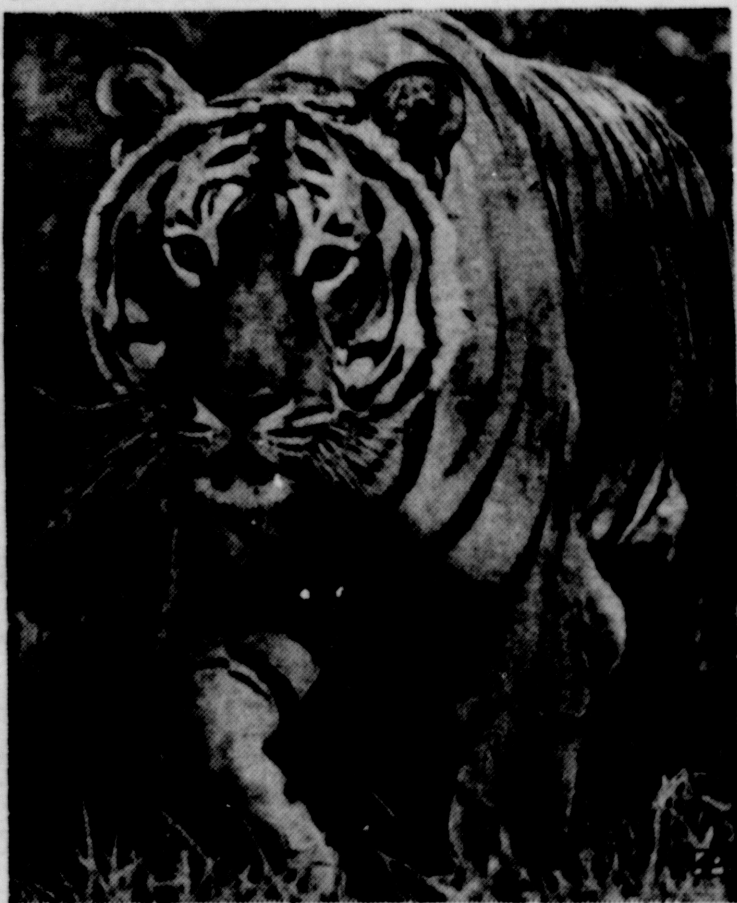

PREFERS SHOW BIZ

Nancy Ames, currently of "That Was The Week That Was," got her first amateur theatrical experience producing shows for the Junior League in Washington . . . and it attracted enough favorable attention to get her a Broadway role in "Tenderloin."

WELL, IT'S EXERCISE

Richard "Dr. Kildare" Chamberlain has become adept at riding a unicycle as well as a skate board.

A tonometer is an instrument for measuring pressure within the eye. It is commonly used to test for glaucoma.

A NEW LAIR—Sahib, a newcomer to the Whipsnade Zoo near Dunstable, England, pads about its enclosure. Tiger had been a resident at the London Zoo for five years.

Charles Boyer Will Narrate Documentary On French Art

The long-awaited NBC documentary on France's treasury of art, the Louvre, will be seen Tuesday, November 17, 10 to 11 p.m.

Charles Boyer will be the on-screen narrator.

The production marks another coup for NBC producer Lucy Jarvis who "specializes in negotiating the impossible" as a colleague puts it.

Last year she made the arrangements for films inside the Kremlin that the Russians had never even given themselves permission to do.

HARD TO GET

And it has been said that "getting permission for the Kremlin was a snap compared to getting the OK for the Louvre . . . but Mrs. Jarvis doesn't give up." Official negotiations took five months.

In addition to persual of many of the museum's works of art by the color cameras, the program will trace the history of the present and predecessor Louvre buildings over the hundreds of years of its existence. For the record: "The three-story edifice is longer than two Eiffel Towers laid on end. It encompasses an area of about 500 acres, 45 city blocks in the heart of Paris. It contains over 300,000 masterpieces."

PRIZE WINNER

Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Norman Dello Joio will conduct the special music he has composed for the program. The script was written by Sidney Carroll, a first-prize Cannes Film Festival winner.

Interesting sidelight: Though most everyone knows the Mona Lisa is the most popular painting in the Louvre, few know what is second. It's Vincent van Gogh's "Country Church of Auvers."

Among the treasures observed by the documentary will be the Winged Victory, Venus de Milo, the Napoleonic jewels and several Rembrandts. Interestingly,

MODELS MODEL UNDER-DRESS FOR AFTER FIVE

NEW YORK (AP) — When the models stepped out of their dresses in Pauline Trigere's showroom not an eyebrow was lifted: They wore other dresses underneath.

The idea of wearing two dresses at the same time, a scheme which played a major part in her spring collection Thursday, was Miss Trigere's reaction to the current tendency by American women to wear not even enough of one dress.

Models flipped off skirts and peeled away jackets on costumes called "top suits." There they stood looking ready for the cocktail hour in billowing chiffon or brilliantly colored silk prints with cowl necklines or giant scarves.

In this teaseless strip act, "top dress" was the name Miss Trigere conceived for a sleeveless V-necked wool which, with a shrug of the shoulders, fell away in favor of a voluminous soft pink silk number.

The quick-change artistry was just one aspect of the show. There were touches of Middle East influence as dark-eyed misses in bright silk draped matching harem veils over their heads.

There was a bit of victorianism in the lavish use of pin stripes, throat-hugging collars with black ribbon ties and jackets and dresses with lapel neck openings cut in a "V" to the waist and worn over modest dickeys.

But most costumes were as French and chic as Miss Trigere herself in her white mink dress.

Couple Killed In Turnpike Accident

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—A Cincinnati couple was killed and a Chicago woman injured Thursday night in a one-car crash at the Bedford Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

State police said George K. Tashjian, 58, and his wife, Elsie, 54, died at the scene of crushed chests.

Miss Irene Yeraniosian, 50, was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital in fair condition.

Officers said the car, driven by Tashjian, crashed through a guard rail, flipped over and dropped 20 feet down an embankment.

PLAN STEEL TALKS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union and the basic steel industry will get together to appraise collective bargaining in advance of new contract talks.

USW President David J. McDonald and R. Conrad Cooper, vice president - personnel services of U.S. Steel Corp., said Thursday that joint industry-union Human Relations Committee will begin a series of concentrated meetings immediately.

Mrs. Jarvis learned that of the 27 Rembrandts in the Louvre, only half are on display. The others are shelved in storerooms.

SIZE MUST VARY

The sight of painters copying famed works is a common one. Not widely known by the general public, however, is that when permission is granted by the Louvre it is with the understanding that the copy not be the exact size of the original.
